Progress of the Portfolio Investment

Fund performance

The fund outperformed its benchmark (on a pre fee/pre tax basis) in the December 2011 quarter. The period was reasonably strong for risk assets, particularly shares and property, with Australian shares up 2.05% and global property rising 8.86%. International equities held up as well, returning 2.0%. Government bonds continued to rally in the December quarter contributing a return of 1.94% for Australian fixed interest and 2.0% for international fixed interest. Our underlying active strategies were mixed, with Australian equities and international equities adding value while global property and alternative investments detracted from value in the December quarter.

Market outlook

Investment markets have once again been dominated by macro events mostly out of Europe. In a series of summits, Eurozone nations agreed on some measures to alleviate the sovereign debt crisis, and together with the resignation of the Greek and Italian prime ministers, some small rallies occurred in global markets. In the US, the economic news continues to show signs of improvement, though in Australia, corporate news offers little to offset a difficult macro background. Market volatility, concerns over global growth and in particular signs that China's momentum may be easing contributed to a sub-par showing from resource stocks which were negative for the December quarter. Banks and defensive stocks were the outperformers.
