Fund update

The 1970's Lifestage Fund produced a negative return over the March quarter, the 12-month rolling performance remained positive.

Both equities and bond markets experienced significant volatility over the quarter. The US Federal Reserve turned increasingly hawkish and started hiking interest rates by 25bps in March. The market expects more aggressive rate hikes into the year, and balance sheet reduction or 'quantitative tightening' as a result of inflationary pressures and tight labour markets. Sentiment was further exacerbated following the ramifications of Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

Strong commodity prices provided a tailwind to domestic equities and the Australian Dollar. The domestic equity market, as represented by the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index, returned 2.1%. International Equities, as measured by the MSCI World ex Australia Net Return Index, returned -5.0% on AUD hedged basis and -8.4% on unhedged basis. Emerging market equities underperformed with the MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index returning -9.9% over the quarter, led by the continuing poor sentiment towards China following growing concerns about forced delisting of the US-listed Chinese companies and the new surge of COVID cases and restrictions across multiple regions in China. Domestic listed property as measured by the S&P/ASX 300 A-REIT Index returned -6.7% and global listed property as measured by the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed AUD Hedged Net Total Return Index, returned -3.5% over the quarter.

Bond markets experienced some of the worst drawdowns over the past 30 years, driven by monetary tightening and higher inflation expectations. The US 10-year treasury yield moved 83bps higher to 2.34%, and the Australian 10-year government bond yield moved 117bps higher to 2.84% over the quarter. Credit spreads also widened as market volatility surged. As a result, domestic fixed interest, as measured by the Bloomberg Ausbond Composite 0+ Yr Index, returned -5.9%. International fixed interest markets, as measured by the Bloomberg Barclays Global-Aggregate Total Return AUD Hedged index, returned -5.0%.

Over the quarter both growth and defensive oriented portfolios had negative results.
