2. How the Fund works

When you invest your money in the Fund, your money is pooled together with other investors' money. We use this pool to buy investments, and those investments are managed on behalf of all investors in the Fund. By investing this way you acquire an interest in the Fund and access skilled investment management as well as investments you may otherwise not be able to access. However, we have day-to-day control over the operation of the Fund.

So that you know what your interest in the Fund is worth, we divide the net asset value of the assets in the Fund into 'units', and issue these units to investors. We'll calculate a price for each unit and keep a record of the number of units you've acquired.

Generally, the Fund isn't open to direct investors. The Fund is only accessible through an Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS), IDPS-like scheme or a nominee or custody service, a managed account or any other service or platform approved by us (collectively referred to as an 'investment service') or through a superannuation fund. This means the rights that apply to someone who invests directly in the Fund are not available to you, but rather to the operator or custodian of the investment service or the trustee or custodian of the superannuation fund (each referred to as the 'Operator').

Where you are accessing the Fund via an investment service or superannuation fund, the terms 'you' and 'your' used in this PDS refer to you as an investor through such products. However, the Operator will be recorded in the register as the investor and will be the person who exercises the rights and receives the benefits of an investor.

You will need to instruct your adviser or Operator to increase your investment in the Fund by reinvesting distributions or making an additional investment, or to decrease your units by making a withdrawal.

Application money is paid into an interest bearing account upon receipt. Any interest earned on this account will be retained by us and may be paid into the Fund.

Unit prices

Generally, unit prices are calculated each Business Day for the preceding Business Day. A Business Day means a day (other than a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday) on which banks are open for business in Sydney. The unit price will change as the market value of assets in the Fund rises or falls. Assets and liabilities of the Fund for the purposes described in this PDS are valued in accordance with the Fund's constitution.

Entry prices are generally higher than exit prices due to the costs of buying and selling the underlying assets of the Fund. The difference is called the 'buy-sell spread'. There is no buy-sell spread on distributions that are reinvested.

Minimum initial investment

Generally, the Fund isn't open to investment by direct investors. You should refer to the offer document for the investment service or superannuation fund that you invest in as you may be subject to minimum balance requirements.

How to withdraw

You should refer to the relevant offer document for the investment service or superannuation fund, or contact your financial adviser or the Operator, for information regarding processing of transactions relevant to them.

In certain circumstances, such as a freeze on withdrawals or where the Fund is illiquid (as defined in the Corporations Act), you may have to wait a longer period of time before you can redeem your investment.

During the period of processing distributions, the time in receiving your redemption proceeds may be extended. Please refer to Section 2 of the Additional Information Booklet - 'How to withdraw' and 'Restrictions on withdrawals' for further details.

How we process transactions

We'll act on instructions from your Operator. Generally, if we receive a correctly completed application and monies or a correctly completed withdrawal request before 10am (Sydney time) on a Business Day, it will be processed with the unit price calculated for that day. Where we receive correctly completed documentation and monies (where applicable) after 10am (Sydney time) on a Business Day, it will be processed using the unit price determined for the following Business Day.

Distributions

The Fund generally pays distributions half yearly and under special circumstances may pay special distributions.

Cash distributions are generally determined by the Responsible Entity at the end of the distribution period in accordance with the relevant policy/policies and the constitution, and divided by the number of units on issue.

Distribution payments are typically paid to you (or your Operator) as soon as practicable after the end of the distribution period of the Underlying Fund. You should check with your Operator to see when it will pass distributions on to you.

All taxable income will be attributed to unitholders in accordance with applicable tax laws – refer to section 7 'How managed investment schemes are taxed'. Importantly, the cash distribution amount paid to you may vary to the amount of taxable income attributed to you.

Indirect investors

We authorise the use of this PDS as disclosure to people who wish to access the Fund indirectly through an investment service or superannuation fund.

3. Benefits of investing in the Fund

Key features

The Fund invests into the Underlying Fund, which is an actively managed portfolio aiming to outperform the S&P/ASX Mid-Small Accumulation Index over the medium to long term. This is achieved by investing predominantly in listed companies which are outside the top 50 ASX listed companies by market capitalisation and companies listed on the New Zealand Stock Exchange with an equivalent market capitalisation.

Key benefits

The Fund offers a number of important benefits. The significant benefits are as follows:

- Focus on cash generative businesses: The Manager is a fundamental based investment manager with a discounted cash flow valuation approach.
- Team experience: The investment team of the Manager has over 100 years' combined experience investing in equities.
- Potential for higher growth: Small and mid-cap companies generally have more potential for growth relative to large companies as they may be in the early stages of development or are providing new services or technologies.
- Open-minded, holistic thinking: The Manager assesses businesses with a broader view, noting that global parallels are important in a technologically evolving environment.
- Risk aware: Assessing risk is central to the Manager's thinking around portfolio construction and investment.

4. Risks of managed investment schemes

All investments carry risk.

The likely investment return and the risk of losing money is different for each managed investment scheme, as different strategies carry different levels of risk based on the underlying mix of assets. Generally, the higher the level of risk you're prepared to accept, the higher the potential returns or losses. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk. Growth assets, such as shares and property, are generally considered the most volatile assets, ie they're likely to experience greater fluctuations in value than defensive assets, such as fixed interest and cash.

The significant risks for the Fund are as follows.

Asset class risk

This is the risk associated with a particular asset class. For example, equities are generally more volatile than fixed interest investments, while investing in international equities adds additional risks because of currency movements, differing tax structures and social, economic and political factors affecting a country or region.

Compensation fee structure risk

The responsible entity and Manager of the Underlying Fund may receive compensation based on the performance of the investments of the Underlying Fund. These arrangements may create an incentive for the Manager to make more speculative or higher risk investments than might otherwise be the case. A performance fee may still be payable where the overall performance of the portfolio has declined, where the Underlying Fund or Manager has outperformed their benchmark or performance hurdle.

Concentration risk

The Underlying Fund may have exposure to a small number of key investments. This may result in the returns of the Underlying Fund being dependent on the returns of individual companies and industry sectors. This concentration of exposures may increase the volatility of the Underlying Fund's unit price, and increase the risk of poor performance. It may also result in the Underlying Fund's returns differing significantly from its benchmark.

Derivatives risk

The Underlying Fund may use derivatives (such as futures) to gain or reduce exposure to investment markets. Risks associated with derivatives include the value of the derivatives failing to move in line with the underlying asset, issues associated with the management of the assets backing a derivative, meaning the Fund or Underlying Fund may not be able to meet payment obligations as they arise, and counterparty risk in the case of over-the-counter derivatives where no clearing house acts as an intermediary party (where the counterparty to the derivative contract cannot meet its obligations under the contract).

Fund performance risk

There is the risk that active management of the Underlying Fund deviates from the benchmark and leads to underperformance. In addition, there is the risk that because of different levels of cash being held by this Fund and the Underlying Fund it invests in, and the timing of applications and redemptions, the performance of the two stated funds could be different.

Interest rate or duration risk

This is the risk associated with adverse changes in security prices as a result of interest rate movements. For example, this could be due to a change in the absolute level of interest rates, the spread between two interest rates, the shape of the yield curve, or in any other interest rate relationship. Duration refers to the sensitivity of security prices to a change in interest rates.

Liquidity risk

This is the risk that a security or asset may not be converted to cash in a timely manner. The liquidity of the Fund will depend on the liquidity of the Underlying Fund and the ability of the Underlying Fund to satisfy withdrawal requests.

Market risk

These are factors that can influence the direction and volatility of an overall market as opposed to security specific risks. These factors can be specific to one country or affect a number of countries. Macroeconomic, technological, geopolitical or regulatory conditions and even market sentiment changes can mean the value of investment markets change. These factors include shocks to an economy, such as a spike in the price of oil, terrorist threats, political elections, environmental catastrophes, or changes to monetary or fiscal policy.

Security specific risk

This is the risk associated with an individual security. The price of securities in a company may be affected by unexpected changes in that company's operations or business environment such as changes in management or the loss of a significant customer.

Small companies risk

Smaller company shares are perceived to be more volatile than larger capitalised stocks. Smaller companies tend to be less diversified in their earnings both in terms of business model and geography, which can lead to greater potential for unexpected negative earnings surprise and this can create sudden downward pressure on share prices. Smaller companies generally do not have the financial reserves of their larger counterparts and are therefore generally more vulnerable in weaker economic conditions.

Risk can be managed but it can't be completely eliminated. It is important to understand the following.

- The value of your investment will go up and down.
- Past performance isn't an indicator of future performance.
- The level of returns will vary and future returns may differ from past returns.
- Returns are not guaranteed and there's always the chance you may lose money on any investment you make in the Fund.
- Laws affecting your investment in a managed investment scheme may change over time.

The level of risk appropriate for you will depend on a range of factors including your age, investment timeframe, where other parts of your wealth are invested and how comfortable you are with fluctuations in the value of your investment over your investment timeframe.

You should read the important information about 'Risks of managed investment schemes' in Section 4 of the Additional Information Booklet before making a decision.

6. Fees and costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Fees and costs summary

This section shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the Fund as a whole.

Unless otherwise stated, all fees are inclusive of GST and take into account reduced input tax credits (RITC), if applicable, in respect of the GST component of the fee.

Taxes are set out in another part of this document and Section 7 of the Additional Information Booklet.

You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment. You can also use this information to compare the costs between different simple managed investment products.

Example of annual fees and costs for the Fund

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs of the Fund can affect your investment over a one year period. You can use this table to compare this product with other managed investment products.

Example – Balance of $50,000[1] with a contribution of $5,000 during the year
Contribution fees	Nil	For every additional $5,000 you put in, you will be charged $0.
PLUS Management fees and costs	0.75%	And, for every $50,000 you have in the Fund you will be charged $375 each year.
PLUS Performance fees	0.34%	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $170 in performance fees each year.
PLUS Transaction costs	0.24%	And, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $120 in transaction costs.
EQUALS Cost of the Fund	If you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during that year, you would be charged fees and costs of: $665 What it costs you will depend on the investment option you choose and the fees you negotiate.

1 This amount is prescribed by legislation. The example above assumes that the $50,000 is invested for the entire year, the value of the investment is constant over the year and the additional $5,000 is invested at the end of the year. Therefore management costs are calculated using the $50,000 balance only. The example includes rounded figures for illustrative purposes.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Changes in fees and costs

The constitution for the Fund allows us to charge a management fee of up to 4% pa (excluding GST) of the value of the assets in the Fund.

We may change the amount of the fees and costs payable to us without your consent (up to any maximum that is allowed under the Fund's constitution). If we increase the fees or costs payable to us (such as the management fee), we will provide you with written notice at least 30 days prior to the change becoming effective (or otherwise as required by law).

Performance fees charged by the Underlying Fund

Depending on how well the Underlying Fund performs, the Manager may be entitled to receive a performance fee which is payable by the Underlying Fund.

The performance fee is equal to 15% of the difference in the Underlying Fund's return (net of management fees) relative to its benchmark return multiplied by the net asset value of the Underlying Fund.

The Underlying Fund's performance benchmark is the S&P/ASX Mid-Small Accumulation Index. If the index ceases to be published, the responsible entity of the Underlying Fund will nominate an equivalent replacement index.

The performance fee is calculated and accrued each Business Day and is payable at the end of each 6 month period ending 30 June and 31 December.

The Manager will only be paid the performance fee if the Underlying Fund's net daily performance fee accrual is positive.

That is, any previous negative performance fee accruals generated when the Underlying Fund underperformed the benchmark must have been recovered.
