BT appoints Head of Product Management bolstering its platforms' leadership team

Today BT announced the appointment of Kathryn Cosentino to the newly created role of Head of Product Management in its platforms business.

Kathryn joins BT with more than 20 years' experience in platforms product and operations roles. Kathryn is a high calibre product professional and brings with her experience leading through significant change, including MLC's merger with IOOF. Kathryn joins us from her most recent role as Insignia Financial's Head of Wrap Platforms.

Kathy Vincent, BT's Managing Director, Platforms & Investments said "I am delighted to welcome Kathryn to BT. She has an impressive track record in putting advisers and their clients first and I look forward to her passion and commitment in helping BT Panorama to become the undisputed platform of choice in Australia".

"Kathryn is a well-regarded and highly disciplined leader and joins BT at an exciting time as we shape the BT of the future and continue to invest in the contemporary BT Panorama platform," Ms Vincent said.

BT is a leading Australian platform provider with more than $130bn in funds under administration.

Kathryn will work alongside the Platforms & Investment leadership team, including the other newly created role Head of Strategy and Product Development. This appointment will be announced soon.

Kathryn will commence with BT from 4 May and Ms Vincent thanked Daniela De Zotti Head of Platform Management and Implementation for acting in the role whilst recruitment has taken place.
